

What is Zeolite?

What is Zeolite?

Zeolites are natural volcanic minerals that are mined in certain parts of the world. When volcanoes erupt, molten lava and thick ash pour out. Because many volcanoes are located on an island or near an ocean, this lava and ash often flows into the sea. Thanks to a chemical reaction between the ash from the volcano and the salt from the sea, amazing minerals like Zeolites are formed in the hardened lava over the course of thousands of years.

What makes Zeolites so amazing is the fact that it's not only one of the few negatively-charged minerals found in nature, but it also has a very unique structure. Zeolites have large, vacant spaces - or cages - that allow space for large, positively charged ions to be attracted to it, then trapped and eliminated from the body.

All natural Zeolites have been shown to remove heavy metals, toxins and other compounds from the body; balance the body's pH levels; and support a healthy immune system. They do this through their unique crystalline structure of cavities and "cages" that trap these substances and remove them safely and naturally from your system.

A specific member of the zeolite family of minerals, known as "clinoptilolite" has a very unique honeycomb-like cellular structure that has the ability to trap and bind various toxins, heavy metals, viral particles and other impurities and remove them safely from your body.

When this specific form of zeolite is "activated" with a process that removed any naturally occurring toxins from it, the end product is a 100% natural, 100% non-toxic liquid that is completely safe for human consumption.

In fact, the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has given zeolite a G.R.A.S. rating which means Generally Recognized As Safe.

Top 10 Reasons to Use Activated Zeolite

Many thousands of people are using a liquid form of activated zeolite every day for various reasons including the following:

- It has been shown to safely and effectively remove toxic heavy metals such as mercury, cadmium, arsenic and lead from the human body.
- Research has shown that zeolites may have an antiviral effect because it tends to trap viral particles within its porous cell structure and remove them from the body before a process known as "viral assembly" can take place.
- Many people take activated zeolite as a safe, natural preventative, to lower their risk of cold and flu infections.
- They have also been shown to help balance pH levels in the body which creates a healthy environment where viruses and bacteria are unlikely to live.
- Activated liquid zeolite has the ability to trap excess protons in the digestive tract, helping to lower the risk of acid reflux.

- Activated zeolites have also been shown to improve nutrient absorption in the digestive tract allowing for better results from other supplements you may be taking.

- Many people use activated zeolite because of their effect on the immune system. They tend to support a healthy immune system by removing toxins and chemicals from the body that block it from performing correctly.

- Activated zeolite tends to trap allergens from the blood stream and digestive tract before the body can react to them, thus reducing symptoms from various food and environmental allergies.

- Because of its absorptive effects in the digestive system, activated zeolite has the tendency to stop diarrhea.

- It has been found that activated liquid zeolite provides amazing results in the treatment of many life-threatening and debilitating diseases. Testimonials from Activated Zeolite Users" On Oct 14, I was diagnosed with Malignant Mesothelioma lung cancer caused from Asbestos in the lung. I had it in both lungs so surgery was not an option for treatment and this type of cancer doesn't respond to Chemo or Radiation treatment. I was told I was in the 4th stage. After all testing was completed, CT scan, Lab work, Tissue biopsy, and a PET scan, I was told by the Oncologist that there was nothing he could do for me and he referred me back to my medical doctor for the final care. On Oct 31st, I started taking activated liquid zeolite. The second day of my taking activated zeolite I started to have different sensations in the tumor on my back that was protruding through the chest wall. Sensations like a numbness, to jelly like when I walked, to bee stings and painful, to a stretching feeling at the tumor, each day it was a different feeling. After two weeks on the activated zeolite a tumor in my upper abdomen which was about the size of a ping-pong ball was now the size of a marble. In the third week of zeolite that tumor could not be found and the tumor on my back was almost gone. At the time of my appointment with the Oncologist the tumor mass on my back could not be found." Larry Benjamin — Jemison , Alabama

"My son Camron has been diagnosed as autistic since he was two years old and had stopped talking at that time. Camron is now 6 years old and he is an affectionate, smart, playful boy. However, he continued to have problems communicating, and overall interacting with others.

The school has been working with him and we had made some progress. Camron had difficulty sitting for long periods of time as well. He had also had stomach problems where he would not eat or become constipated often. It is common in some autistic children to get a condition called "leaky gut" and although we never had him diagnosed for this, Camron was displaying some symptoms by having various stomach issues.

We were introduced to activated zeolite through a friend and business associate, Don Groth. I immediately thought of Camron because we knew that autism could be caused by metals or toxins in the body and since we believed this to be the case with Camron we decided to try it not just for ourselves but for Camron.

Since taking the activated zeolite, (we started Camron on 6 drops 3 times a day), we have been told that Camron can sit for 45 minutes to do class work, is talking more and interacting more with others. He will repeat words back which is building up his vocabulary. I can hardly keep up with the things he says now because he is observing and imitating the things he sees others do.

As soon as he started taking the activated zeolite, his eating habits automatically improved. Camron has been known to be a pretty good eater so when he would not eat much or not at all on a particular day, we knew that something was wrong. Before he would not really eat as much and even skip lunch at school sometimes. With the activated zeolite he has a healthy appetite again and no more stomach pains or problems.

We are so grateful to have been introduced to activated zeolite. Not only did Camron not have any bad reaction to it, it is odorless and tasteless so we would put it in any drink or food without Camron knowing. This worked out perfectly because Camron is very sensitive to certain food texture and will not eat or drink anything that tastes "funny" to him.

Chester & Christine Green

"First...The Bad News - As parents of 2 young boys, my wife and I really suffer when one of our sons comes home from school one day and says he does not feel good, then develops a sore throat, cold symptoms or a fever and over the next day or so gets a virus type flu and then gets a cough which lasts for weeks. We eat very healthy and we feed our children the best healthy foods (mostly organic) and supplement their diet with the best nutritional products, so when they pick up a cold bacterial bug or virus bug at school (which are continually circulating amongst the children) and get sick and bring it home it really makes us not-happy.

This gets even worse when the sick child gets the other child sick and now we have both of our children sick, which usually then gets my wife and/or myself sick due to the contagious nature of these bacterial bugs and viruses. As any parent reading this knows, it is definitely not fun and does cause upset. Life and living is difficult enough already, without this unwanted and not needed illness cycle occurring every few months.

Now...The Good News - Since we all started using the Activated Liquid Zeolite all this has changed and now we have the secret weapon to defend our children and ourselves from those bad bugs and viruses, and since we began the activated zeolite 3 months ago it has definitely been working because they have not gotten sick.

For the past few weeks a very serious virus has been hitting the kids at the private school where our children go, and kids all around them have been getting this bad flu like sickness. It starts with bad continual headaches for the first day and night, then it is a high fever for a day or so followed by lots of vomiting and pain and suffering for up to a week.

Our oldest son (9 years old) one day said his head was hurting when he came home from school, so I simply increased his activated zeolite to 15 drops with dinner and when he went to bed and he woke up the next morning with the headache gone and no other symptoms ever developed. Our young son (5 years old) a week later came home with mild headaches and the beginning of a fever, so I increased his activated zeolite to 15 drops with dinner and before he went to bed. He had a mild fever through the night, and the next morning it was gone and he had no symptoms ever develop.

We now have 2 happy, healthy and full of calm energy boys who are loving school and their life and they are not getting sick any more and we are so thankful and happy about this. Now we are telling some of the other parents and teachers at the school about the activated zeolite because they are so tired of their kids getting sick."

Tari Steward - Florida Disclaimer: The statements on this page about liquid zeolite are for educational research purposes only. This information is not being used to solicit a product, is not to be interpreted as a claim or treatment, and has not been endorsed or approved by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA). All testimonials on this page are personal accounts, freely given, by actual people who have used the activated zeolite mineral. These statements have not been verified as to factuality nor validity by any agency or qualified medical facility. Individual results may vary. No person with a physical illness should undertake the self-administration of nutritional substances or substitute them for qualified medical treatment unless advised to do so by a qualified medical professional. Use of any nutritional substance mentioned on this website is done at your own risk. This website is for information only and the providers of this information will not be held liable for use of any substance mentioned on ZeoliteAutismStudy.com.